OUTFIGHTS HILLTOPS; BEATEN BY AIR PASSES

Hatchetites Contest Every Inch of Ground; Line Outcharges Heavier Georgetown Forwards; Licarione, Ptak, Hughes and Jawish Star.

Stubbornly contesting every inch, the Buff and Blue fighting machine went down to honorable defeat before the Georgetown steam roller last Saturday at the American League Park, holding the unbeaten Hilltoppers to four touchdowns.

Unable to gain through the Hatchetite line or skirt the ends when gains were needed, the Blue and Gray were forced to resort to strategy, and it was the aerial attack that finally gave victory to G. U. Supremely strong in the line and on the ends, the G. W. defense showed woefully weak at stopping the long aerial heaves.

Individual stars there were many in the Hatchetite team; in fact, eleven; but those who rose above all others were "Dinny" Hughes, center; "Josh" Licarione, fullback; "Heine" Jawish, guard; and "Jimmy" Ptak, end. These four men were the bulwark of the local defense, breaking plays and going under punts in a manner which kept 7,000 fans on their feet.

The gates to the stands opened at 1:30, and the early birds began to drift into the park. In a few minutes a steady stream of rooters were pouring into the stands.

Pulling for a George Washington victory was Col. Charles Keller, engineer commissioner of the District, who represented official Washington at the fray. Commissioner Keller secured a "Ghost" and commented favorably on the publication. By 2:30 the cheering section was filled and the G. W. fans were hurling challenging yells over to the Hilltop backers.

Fifteen minutes later the G. U. rooters, led by four active youths in white, made the echoes ring with their "Hoya" as the G. U. squad, led by Capt. Jack Flavin, ran onto the field. A little later the echoes were reawakened by a burst of yelling from the Hatchetites, who broke into the singing of "Buff and Blue," led by "Pres" Haynes and accompanied by Sokolov's band, for out of the dressing room, with Capt. "Bill" Springston in the van, came Hatchetite footballers.

For a few minutes they ran through signals, with the stands fairly wild with enthusiasm; and then the captains and the referee consulted in mid-field. How small, "Bailee" appeared beside the towering Flavin! There was a flash as the coin was tossed into the air; Flavin elected to kick, and the battle was on.

Flavin Downed.

Taking no chances, "Springer" promptly put G. W. on the defensive by returning the kickoff with a short punt to Flavin, who was downed in his tracks. After two ineffectual attempts at piercing the line, Flavin tried a field goal, but missed. The ball was put in play on the Hatchetite 20-yard line and Crouch kicked to midfield. Here it was the Buff and Blue rose supreme. Twice they stopped the rushes of the mighty Flavin, once hurling him back for a 5-yard loss. But the Hilltoppers were not to be denied. A long pass, Flavin to McQuade, and three line plunges, and the ball was over, with Kenyon as the agent. He also added the extra point. After the kickoff an exchange of punts and line plunges brought the period to an end.

Springston opened the second quarter with a punt to Flavin, who was nailed in his tracks. Flavin then circled the left flank for 25 yards. A long forward pass to McQuade and an off-tackle dash by the latter and G. U. added six more points to their score. Kenyon kicked the goal.

Georgetown kicked off to Licarione, who went 15 yards before being

MANAGERS APPOINTED; FRATS EXEMPTED FROM CHARTER RULE

At the Student Council meeting of October 27 plans for the first Student Council dance of the year were made. Arrangements for the dance are being made by the social committee, of which Glenn Corbett is chairman. All students of the University are invited to attend. The dance will be held in the ballroom of the Hotel Raleigh, November 11.

The matter of charters was again taken up, and while some of the many organizations in the University have made application for charters there are many which have not. Only fraternal organizations and the several class organizations are excepted from this order.

It was also pointed out that the constitution of the Student Council empowered the president to appoint a representative to take charge of class elections until a president has been

45 RECEIVE DEGREES AT FALL CONVOCATION

Largest Group to Graduate in Fall; Need of College-Trained Folk Stressed.

Forty-five graduates of the various departments of the University, the largest group ever graduated at a G. W. fall convocation, marched to the pulpit of the Concordia Church Thursday morning just before noon and received from President Howard Lincoln Hodgkins, of George Washington University, the degrees which they had earned.

Although Thursday's convocation exercises lacked the pomp and ceremony usually incident to the June graduation ceremonies, it was nevertheless quite as impressive. James William Crabtree, secretary of the National Education Association, gave a scholarly address upon the obligations dependent upon university people, and particularly those going out to fight the battles of the world on the strength of college degrees.

Urged To Be Optimists. "Be constructive optimists," was the farewell advice given the class by President Hodgkins. "Think of the sun behind the clouds, and then help make things as they should be by accomplishment. Be loyal to yourself, your community, your nation, and your God, and the world will be a brighter, stronger, worthier place to live in," President Hodgkins concluded.

ROOTERS HIT STRIDE BY CHAPEL PRACTICE

New yells and songs were practiced at "pep" meetings, which were held in the chapel last Thursday and Friday. There were large crowds both days, and great enthusiasm and pep were made evident by the noise, which could be heard a square off.

Katz and Mears led the practicing of seven or eight new cheers. Sokolov played the accompaniment for his song while the rest sang. This was all in preparation for the Georgetown game Saturday, and the results, as shown at the game, were remarkable.

ELECT SENIOR OFFICERS BY UNANIMOUS VOTE

Unanimity featured the choice of officers by the senior class, C. C., at their organization meeting held in the chapel of Lisner Hall Wednesday night. Robert W. Colfesh was elected president; Margaret Ayres, vice president; Lillian Smith, secretary; Benjamin Willis, treasurer; and J. Russell Mason, sergeant at arms.

elect. In those instances where the president of the class for the preceding year is still attending the University he will act as chairman until an officer to succeed him is chosen.

The council made the following appointments: Business manager of The Hatchet, Alfred C. Richmond; business manager of Cherry Tree, James L. Platt; manager of baseball, James A. DeForce; manager of track, Bolton B. Turner; manager of girls' basketball, Daisy Robison; manager of girls' swimming, Marjorie Gerry. Bee Woodford was recommended for coach of girls' swimming.

The council still wants nominations for these positions: Assistant manager of football; assistant manager men's basketball; assistant manager girls' basketball; assistant manager girls' swimming.

QUIGLEY STRICKEN; MORSE NOW COACHES

Bill Quigley, varsity football coach, was operated on by Dr. Borden at the University Hospital on Monday, October 31, 1921, at 5:30 o'clock for appendicitis. While progressing favorably, Quigley will not be able to coach the team this week but will resume charge of the team in time for the Gallaudet game. During Quigley's absence Director Morse will direct the squad.

PUBLICATION HEADS FORM FRATERNITY

Gamma Tau Zeta, New Local Honor Society, Will Petition National Body for Charter.

Organization of a local journalistic fraternity at George Washington University by the literary leaders of the University was made public last night. The new organization, Gamma Tau Zeta, has already drawn up petitions for a charter from the Student Council and Board of Managers and is preparing formally to petition a national journalistic fraternity for a charter, members said.

Charter members of George Washington's newest honor society are Daniel A. Chace, instructor in journalism; Bryan Morse, director of student activities; C. Melville Walker, editor of The University Hatchet; Arthur Nall, editor of The Ghost; Karl Peterson, editor of The Cherry Tree; Eugene S. Thomas, associate editor of The University Hatchet; Earl Chesney, art editor of The Ghost.

The purpose of the new organization, as outlined by its members, is to stimulate interest in and promote work on the University publications by offering a tangible reward for the exertions of the staffs; to advance the journalism course now offered by the University by cooperation with the journalistic faculty, and to aid the progress of the University publications by securing the assistance of the National Capital's journalists.

Membership will be extended to registered students of G. W. U. who have passed one full year's work in this University and who have shown unusual ability on the staff of one or more of the school publications.

In advancement of student work in the University's activities, which make for the progress of the University, the members of the young honor society hope that Gamma Tau Zeta will take its place with the Pyramid Honor Society and the various professional fraternities.

By affiliation with one of the national journalism fraternities a closer cooperation with the publications of other universities is expected, and this is expected to result in the development of George Washington's newspaper, humor magazine and yearbook.

Candidates will be pledged annually, according to plans announced by the members.

FETE WINNING CUBS AT DANCE TONIGHT

Editor Walker Announces Reporters Who Survived Try-outs for Hatchet Staff.

Successful candidates for the editorial staff of The University Hatchet will be entertained at a dance to be given tonight at the Kappa Alpha fraternity house.

The list of the new reporters on the news staff, as announced by Editor C. Melville Walker, follows: Howard M. Johnson, Ardis Smith, Douglas Clephane, Oscar Zabel, John B. Gilliland, D. Jay Culver, Millard F. Ottman, Edward Rappolee, Thomas Patterson, Hugh Everett, Jr., D. B. Lloyd, L. W. Ohlander, Kirk Mears, Allan E. Coe, Wm. Norr, Castle Wanda, Ethel Wolpe, Caroline E. Peterson, Mae Adele Markley, Mary F. Ward; Law School branch, Frank H. Myers, Samuel Ostrolenk, Merwin A. Brown; Medical School branch, Donald Detwiler, Clayton Hixon; Pharmacy School branch, Charles P. Ruby; Sports staff, Leighton Johnston and James Bowen.

GRADUATE SCHOOL TO CHOOSE COUNCILMAN

Emmet Petersoz and Leo Terry have been nominated for election to the University Student Council as representatives from the School of Graduate Studies, according to announcement recently by Herbert H. Shinnick, chairman of the Council Elections Committee. One of the two candidates will be selected by the members of the graduate student body at an election, the date of which will be stated in a future edition of The Hatchet.

COUNCILMEN FLAY ELECTION TACTICS

President Robert Anderson Promises Scrutiny of Class Balloting by Student Council as Step in Universal Honesty Campaign.

"Balloting at the coming sophomore and freshman class elections will be closely watched," stated Robert Anderson, president of the Student Council. This is to be the first step in the campaign to secure honesty, it was pointed out. "Every candidate for any class position will be given an equal chance with every other candidate, and no unfair campaigning or balloting of any sort will be tolerated," further stated another prominent member of the council.

There has been a general feeling in the past that class elections have not always been conducted with the fairness that should

COUNCIL TO ADOPT HONOR RULES SOON

Chairman Tuele Reports Progress of Committee; Yale and Harvard Systems Studied.

"An honor system for George Washington University is being evolved and its constitution drawn up to be submitted to the Student Council for adoption," according to a statement made by Gladys Tuele, chairman of the honor committee, at the meeting of the Student Council last week. Honor systems of Harvard, Yale and other leading universities are being studied by the committee for ideas.

It is expected that the constitution will be finished and ready to be submitted to the Student Council at its next meeting and for subsequent submission to the student body within the near future.

The honor system is to be introduced by the Student Council, the presidents of the different departments to form its central committee. Various subcommittees will be appointed to assist in the application of the honor rules.

MYRTLE YOST ELECTED PRESIDENT OF JUNIORS

Plan Social Program; Will Hold Tea November 12.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Junior Class of Teachers College, held on Wednesday evening, October 26, 1921, the following organization was effected: Miss Myrtle Yost, president; Miss Mae Gervais, vice president; Miss Margaret Fravel, secretary; and Miss Cora Guest, treasurer. The election was conducted by Miss Tuele, representing the Student Council.

After the election plans were made to hold a tea on Saturday, November 12, in the W. U. C. rooms, and the Misses Guest and Bennett were appointed a committee to prepare entertainment and refreshments. A large attendance is urged for this initial affair in order that enthusiasm may be aroused for more extensive activities during the coming year.

Through class activities last year the Junior Teachers were able to give substantial aid to the girls' basketball team by purchasing equipment.

PYRAMID TO MEET.

A meeting of the Pyramid Honor Society is called for 10 o'clock Sunday morning, November 6, 1921, at George Washington University Law School, 1435 K. Street Northwest. Important business. All members are urged to be present by President Edward J. Hanson.

CO-EDS VIE FOR SUPREMACY AS TAX CONTEST NEARS END

As the campaign to secure additional subscribers to the student tax draws to a close, all the competitors are exerting final efforts to secure more subscriptions. The race for first prize is especially close, for at present Anna Waring leads with a total of 95 subscriptions to her credit, while Agnes Nall is a close second, with 90.

John B. Gilliland is third on the list, with 48 signers reported to date, while the remaining contestants are Frances De Grange, C. E. Peterson, and Mabelle Benette.

The contest closes tomorrow, and all subscriptions which are to count in the contest must be handed in by Monday. The Student Council will in all probability award the prizes at its next meeting on November 10.

attend any University election. The freshman election of last year was advanced as an example of the kind of thing the Student Council intends to have stopped. At that election there was a general rough house, which finally ended in the disappearance of several members of the council who were trying to supervise the election.

"The sophomore election of this year was postponed without any legitimate cause, and we intend to see that the balloting is supervised and conducted with absolute impartiality and fairness when it does take place," said a Student Councilman who attended the meeting.

"Toward this end the council will not only closely watch the elections, but will also check each ballot to see that it was cast by a recognized member of the class which is voting," members declared. "In the past there have been notable cases of voting by non-members of the class, and in this way a certain candidate was credited with more votes than he would have gotten by legitimate campaigning," it was claimed.

The Hatchet expects to extend its campaign for honesty to every University function in order that George Washington may be noted for its straight, honest dealing in everything that has to do not only with elections but also with examinations and scholastic work. The Student Council is backing the publication in every way possible, and the faculty has offered its cooperation; but all are agreed it is up to the individual student whether anything is accomplished in this direction.

WOULD HAVE SENATE APPLY HONOR SYSTEM

Law Frosh Surrender Power to Law School Body; Presidency Goes to Scheuffer.

Freshmen of the Law School elected class officers for the ensuing year at a meeting held Tuesday evening, October 25.

John Gall, of the Law Senate, presided, and after considerable discussion the names of Thomas, Thorne, Scheuffer, Boswell and Littlehales were placed on the ballot. After a vote was taken Mr. Scheuffer was found to be overwhelmingly elected president.

Mr. Edwin A. Sloop was chosen vice president without opposition; Miss Hoffman, secretary; and Mr. Robert Savage, treasurer of the class. It was voted unanimously to transfer all powers and privileges of the honor system committee of the freshman class to the Law School Senate.

SOPHS MEET TONIGHT.

The Sophomore Class, C. C., will meet in the chapel Friday, November 4, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of electing class officers.

Let's Have An Honor System

An honor system means much more to a university than merely the fact it prohibits cheating on examinations. It lends prestige to the name of the school, gives a freer understanding between the professors and students, makes better fellowship between the students and alleviates many misunderstandings and contentions that are bound to arise under the old disciplinary system.

Aside from these facts, we come to a full estimation of its worth when we realize it functions in nearly all the leading universities over the country. And in practically every one of these we notice that since its installation it has worked successfully. The heads of universities appreciate its worth, as is also evidenced by statements from the president and deans here, and endeavor in every way to uphold its work.

The honor committee of our Student Council is a good nucleus with which to start. However, this is too small a body to work successfully among the great number of our students. A probable organization would consist of this committee, one representative from the Board of Managers, three representatives from the student body appointed by the president of the University, and the presidents and vice presidents of the different classes as auxiliaries.

This organization would hold court to try any student who had broken one of the laws embodied in the honor code. The president and vice president of the respective class and college of the law-breaking student would take their places at this time as members of the honor committee. Each student must take upon himself the responsibility of collecting evidence against another student whom he believes to be breaking the law. With two other witnesses, the student must inform the president of his class what he knows concerning this student in question. At this court meeting the class president must present the evidence and the court decides whether or not to expel the student from school. Many universities dismiss as many as thirty students each year, but find this is a small loss in comparison with the many benefits derived.

Congratulations, Ghost!

The staff which published "The Ghost" deserves the praise and congratulations of the whole school. If the following editions are as good as the first one, and all signs indicate the next edition will be better, if any difference is to be noted, "The Ghost" will rank with the leading college humorous publications. In placing "The Ghost" on the map the staff is doing a big thing for the University, for a school is known by its publications as well as its athletic teams. When one hears "The Widow" mentioned, one always thinks of Cornell, while the "Punch Bowl" brings to mind the University of Pennsylvania. So in years to come, when some one says "The Ghost," everyone will immediately think of George Washington University. With proper backing "The Ghost" will take its place among the best college magazines of the country, adding another brilliant magazine to an already long list. Congratulations, "Ghost" staff, and may success reward your efforts during the coming year and future staffs for years to come.

AN OPEN LETTER

Dear Editor: One of the main features of a school, from a freshman viewpoint, is the kind of activity which one might term "sophomore activity," but in which the sophomores are backed by the entire upperclass body. Our school boasts, at this time, of the carrying on of more athletic and other authorized activities than at any other time in its history; but a fundamental activity is lacking. At present there is no recognized set of regulations governing the actions of the freshman body and by which the freshman may become a distinguished member of the University society.

Students come here, they enter the various departments, they come and go every day, they pass on into higher branches, they graduate, with barely an incident to break the even tenor of their way. No one outside of school knew what school they attended, if they attended any, and no one in school ever became unduly excited over them. Later on in life the college students become acquainted with a host of people and many good friends are made. They gather together at various times and invariably talk over bygone days, giving tale for tale, vying with each other in the rehearsing of thrilling accounts of college life. But not so the George Washington ex-students; they must remain silent. The alumni of Cornell, Penn State, Harvard, Yale, etc., tell startling tales of freshman rushes, freshman rules with accompanying punishments for the violators, along with innumerable other freshman tales. Here is the startling story of the outcome of a freshman rush. There is the weird tale of the midnight court and the sad story of the shaven hair. These and a host of other interesting stories about former college life pass before the throngs while the narrators glow with pride at the mention of their schools and what they have meant to them in the developing of their characters.

Summarize the spirit of any man or woman. What the average healthy student wants is something unusual and exciting, and the something unusual that usually takes place at other colleges. In another large school may a frosh speak to a young lady? Nay, nay, for dire is the penalty. May the frosh wear aught but "ye skull kap"? Nay, also, for he is a frosh.

Just so, a thousand pleasant memories of school life grow up around this very necessary part of a school's activity curriculum. Why can't we have some of it here at G. W.? Why can't we have some of those things which develop class and school spirit and the love for our Alma Mater?
Sincerely, M. F. OTTMANN.

Why Is Iron Magnetic?

A horse-shoe magnet attracts a steel needle. But why? We don't know exactly. We do know that electricity and magnetism are related.

In dynamos and motors we apply electro-magnetic effects. All our power-stations, lighting systems, electric traction and motor drives, even the ignition systems of our automobiles, depend upon these magnetic effects which we use and do not understand.

Perhaps if we understood them we could utilize them much more efficiently. Perhaps we could discover combinations of metals more magnetic than iron.

The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company investigate magnetism by trying to find out more about electrons and their arrangement in atoms.

X-rays have shown that each iron atom consists of electrons grouped around a central nucleus—like planets around an infinitesimal sun. X-rays enable us to some extent to see into the atom and may at last reveal to us what makes for magnetism.

This is research in pure science, and nothing else. Only thus can real progress be made.

Studies of this kind are constantly resulting in minor improvements. But some day a discovery may be made which will enable a metallurgist to work out the formula for a magnetic alloy which has not yet been cast, but which will surely have the properties required. Such a result would be an achievement with tremendous possibilities. It would improve all electric generators, motors, and magnetic devices.

In the meantime the continual improvement in electrical machinery proceeds, in lesser steps. These summed up, constitute the phenomenal progress experienced in the electrical art during the past twenty-five years.

TO CELEBRATE RAISING OF
WASHINGTON AS MASON

Masons of George Washington University will celebrate the 169th anniversary of the raising of George Washington to the degree of Master at a banquet tonight at the Ebbitt Hotel.

The banquet will be given under the auspices of the Masonic Club and the Travelers Fraternity of the University. The club was founded in 1915 by Merton L. Ferson, George J. Burton and Dr. H. Mueller, U. S. N., all of George Washington University, and Scott J. Topham, Arthur B. Clawson and D. H. Sibbett, of the Acacia Fraternity, a national Masonic organization founded at the University of Michigan in 1902.

The speakers at the banquet will be the Honorable J. J. Davis, Secretary of Labor; President Howard L. Hodgkins, Dean Merton L. Ferson and Prof. DeWitt C. Croissant of the faculty, and the presidents of the Club and Travelers Fraternity.

WOULD BRING Y. W. C. A.
BRANCH TO G. W. U.

Suggestions for starting a branch organization of the Y. W. C. A. at George Washington University were made at a tea given by the Girls' Reserves at the Y. W. C. A., 1333 F Street, Friday afternoon, October 21.

Abigail Lane, one of a number of George Washington girls who attended the meeting, was instructed to investigate the feasibility of the plan.

downed. A G. W. punt and a pass grounded in the Buff and Blue end zone gave the home boys the leather on their 20-yard line, from where successive line plunges by Crouch, Licarione, and Springston, and a forward pass to Licarione gave Quigley's charges two first downs and 25 yards, but with the pass the whistle for half time sounded.

During the intermission the Georgetown cheer leader came over and read off the scores of games being played on other fields, and the news that Centre was leading Harvard 6-0 was greeted with violent cheering. The time until the two teams returned was further passed by songs and by dancing of Leon Katz, one of the Buff and Blue cheer leaders.

G. U. Starts With Rush.

Exendine must have given his men some kind of dope, because they opened up the third quarter with a tremendous rush, pushing over the touch-down with only five plays. Flavin received the kickoff and advanced 30 yards before being downed. McQuade's long end run, a pass to Florence, and McQuade's line plunge completed the dirty work. Kenyon added the point. Coming back, doggedly determined, the Hatchettes fought the Blue and Gray to a standstill for the rest of the period and would not have been scored on except for a lucky pass from Flavin, which dropped into McQuade's arms and let him through for the score. Flavin kicked goal.

The fourth quarter was played almost entirely in the shadow of the George Washington goal posts, but the Hilltoppers were unable to pierce the local forwards when gains were needed. On the 5-yard line the Buff and Blue stopped four G. U. assaults, and Springston punted out of danger. Again on the 15-yard line the Buff and Blue held, but this time "Springer" did not kick. One pass to Ptak was good for 7 yards, and then came the Hatchettes' dying effort to score. A 20-yard pass to Ptak was missed by inches, and a second later the whistle blew, and the battle of years was at an end.

RAIL STRIKE DEBATED.

The debate of the Columbian Debating Society Friday last was a great success and a large gathering witnessed the very heated discussion of the railway strike problem. The negatives won, and Mr. De Brodes was given first place, while Mr. Cox of the affirmative received second.

COLUMBIAN WOMEN TO GIVE BENEFIT

"The River's End" at Knickerbocker
November 16; Scholarships for Girls From Performance.

The Columbian Women of George Washington University will hold their second annual motion-picture benefit at the Knickerbocker Theater, Eighteenth Street and Columbia Road, on Wednesday, November 16, at 2 and 4 p. m. The picture shown will be "The River's End," from the book by James Oliver Curwood, a stirring drama of the great northern silences, with beautiful scenic effects and a charming romance.

The proceeds of the benefit, which will be under the direction of Mrs. John Paul Earnest, will be devoted to the scholarship fund of the Columbian Women, which annually provides two scholarships for girl students of the University. Other University activities also will benefit.

Tickets admitting to either showing of the film, are 50 cents (exempt from tax), and may be obtained from members of the Columbian Women or from Elizabeth Earnest of Arts and Sciences. As last year's benefit took place during an examination period many students were unable to be present. This year, however, they are expected to attend in large numbers and while enjoying a good "movie" show also give evidence that they are behind the Columbian Women scholarship fund heart and soul.

Owing to the fact that the benefit is for such a praiseworthy cause, many noted women have kindly consented to be patronesses. Among them are Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the Vice President of the United States; Mrs. Henry C. Wallace, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture; Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins, wife of the president of the University; Mrs. Heber Votaw, sister of President Harding; Mrs. Breckinridge Long, wife of the former Assistant Secretary of State; Mrs. Henry S. Frye; Mrs. Charles Carroll Glover, wife of the well-known University trustee; Mrs. Julian James; Mrs. Henry W. Keyes (Frances Parkinson Keyes), a noted authoress, wife of Senator Keyes; Mrs. William H. Baldwin.

Membership in the Columbian Women is open to alumnae of the University, wives of members of the faculties and students who have attended the University at least one year. The officers are: President, Miss Elizabeth Peet; vice presidents, Mrs. Merton L. Ferson, Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr.; recording secretary, Mrs. DeWitt C. Croissant; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle; treasurer, Miss Julia V. McCord.

It is hoped that the benefit, under Mrs. Earnest's tireless and inspiring leadership, will surpass the great success of last year, and enable the Columbian women materially to expand their scholarship fund activities.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM G. W. U. FRATERNITIES

SIGMA CHI.

Edward J. Hanson has returned from his home in North Carolina, where he was called on account of the illness and subsequent death of his father.

KAPPA ALPHA.

A variety of garb was in evidence at the house last Saturday, October 29, when the chapter held forth to celebrate Halloween by a tackey party. The house was decorated to conform to the spirit of the occasion.

THETA DELTA CHI.

Many G. W. graduates and visiting Theta Deltas attended the annual Chi Deuteron Halloween dance in honor of the seventy-fourth anniversary of the fraternity, held at the charge house Halloween night, October 31. The house was elaborately decorated and a novelty orchestra added a few vaudeville stunts to embellish the evening.

PHI DELTA PHI.

On Thursday evening, October 27, John Marshall Inn of the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity held a smoker in the Gray Room at the Raleigh Hotel, which was attended by about 60 men. The principal speakers of the evening were Profs. Clephane, Collier, Lavery and Townsend. Several topics of interest and importance were discussed, among them being the recent recommendation of the American Bar Association that students should have at least two years' college training before taking up the study of law.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA.

Pete Ellis has been appointed to lead the Phi Sig bowling forces to victory.

CHI OMEGA.

Dean Hodgkins, acting president of the University, was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the Chi Omega fraternity in their rooms at 2024 G Street, on Monday evening, October 24. Miss Anna Rose, registrar of the University, Mr. George R. Seibold and Mr. Francis Stephens also were present.

SIGMA NU.

Pledge Eustice Meyers was initiated into Delta Pi chapter Sunday afternoon.

DELTA TAU DELTA.

The chapter celebrated Halloween with a formal dance at the Columbia Country Club.

GAMMA DELTA RHO.

Lois McDaris was hostess to the members of the sorority last night at a dinner held at the Tuxedo Apartment. The party was to celebrate the first anniversary of Gamma Delta Rho's founding.

KAPPA SIGMA.

Brother Jergenson, '91, visited Alpha Eta last Saturday. He intends to locate in Washington permanently.
